

The do-not-call list should be honored. Our phone numbers are for our personal business and we should not be constantly invaded by solicitors. It is our privelege to deny access to our private numbers.